Malbec

What:

When the darkness arrives and the night shift begins, Mendoza comes to life with music and dancing. Our thirst for Argentina's talismanic grape variety knows no bounds: Malbec is king and we can't get enough of it. Turno de Noche (night shift) Malbec captures the energy of this vibrant city.

Where:

This is Malbec for purists. 1,000 metre plus altitude vineyards in the Uco Valley helps the variety to ripen slowly, and ensures the grapes' alluring aromatics are preserved. This is crafted with respect for the wonderful fruit we have sourced. Gentle extraction techniques are used to capture the juicy vibrant red and blackcurrant fruits which are hallmarks of this variety, but care is also taken to preserve the violet scent which can make Malbec, oh so pretty.
