What:

The wine region of the Principauté D'Orange is nestled in the Southern Rhône valley around ancient Roman town of Orange. Elegant yet easygoing, this wine brims with ripe red fruit, soft spice, and Rhône charm in every sip.

Where:

The Southern Rhône is one of the world's most renowned wine regions, home to some of the most sought-after and prestigious wines. Even those with little wine knowledge are likely familiar with Châteauneuf-du-Pape, a name steeped in centuries of winemaking history. At Boutinot, the Southern Rhône holds special significance. Over the years, we've cultivated strong relationships with local growers, allowing us to access a diverse range of vineyards across the Côtes du Rhône. This enables us to carefully select plots based on the unique qualities each parcel brings to our blends.

Food Pairings:

The subtle savory notes and gentle spice also make it a natural match for Mediterranean cuisine—think ratatouille, roasted vegetables, or a tomato and olive tapenade. For a cozy evening in, try it with a hearty sausage and lentil stew or a wild mushroom risotto. Even cheese boards shine with this wine, especially when featuring aged Gouda, Comté, or Brie. Belles Lettres is a graceful and food-friendly Rhône that elevates both everyday meals and special occasions.

Tasting Note:

Soft, smooth, and bursting with juicy fruit, this generous Grenache is a true crowd-pleaser, with subtle hints of savory spice adding depth.
